Last Week: Week of March 24, 2014:

Road to Zero Waste Conference and Region 9 Environmental Award Presented: The Regional Administrator provided a keynote address at the Solid Waste Association of North America in Monterey, CA on March 24. This conference, comprised of public and private sector professionals, focused on the importance and challenges of incorporating zero waste concepts into municipal solid waste management plans. Mr. Blumenfeld discussed proven and cutting-edge zero waste trends, policies and technologies advancing sustainable materials management. In addition, he presented the Region 9 Environmental Award to Inland Empire Regional Composting Authority, a partnership with the Los Angeles County Sanitation District, which developed a state of the art composting facility that processes over 200,000 wet tons per year of organic material. This material is recycled locally, instead of being transported out of the region, and is processed into high-quality compost for local reuse.
